

How to find Yn Thie Thooit, The Lhen, Isle of Man

Yn Thie Thooit is situated in the North of the Isle of Man at The Lhen Bridge, Andreas, Isle of Man.

On arriving on the island, proceed North to Ramsey and in Parliament Square follow the sign for “Andreas Bride Jurby A9”, which will take you northwards out of the town.

The Grove Museum will appear on your left. Carry straight on the main road about 4.5 miles towards Andreas Village. After Andreas Church appears on your left, turn left at the next junction into Andreas Village. Andreas stores will appear on your right, go straight on and at the third junction on your right hand side, taking care on the blind bend, turn right along Kiondroghad Road (Bridge End Road) for about 2 miles. At the very end of this road you will arrive at a junction (Jurby/Bride Coast Road). Turn left at this junction and the road travels down hill for half a mile. A narrow stone bridge is at the bottom of the hill and Yn Thie Thooit is on the right straight after the bridge. Turn right straight after the bridge and the garden gateway is first left.

We find it easier to reverse in through the garden gate and straight up to the white garage doors. Key: for the cottage will be left in a key box to the rear of the garage to the left-hand side. The key box code will be supplied to you before your planned arrival date. If you enter an incorrect combination code, press on the clear button and start again. Turn the open handle clockwise 180° to open.

What to look out for:
