Access Guide for the Manx Museum
October 2020

This access guide does not contain personal opinions as to our suitability for those with access needs, but aims to accurately describe the facilities and services that we offer all our visitors.

Introduction
The Manx Museum is the national museum for the Isle of Man, and is the headquarters of Manx National Heritage. The Manx Museum is bursting with artefacts and treasures unique to the Isle of Man. The Island’s history is presented through film, galleries and interactive displays. It houses the National Art Gallery, the National Library and Archive and also has a gift shop and café.

The Manx Museum is the perfect starting point to learn about the history of the Island, and has a vibrant programme of temporary exhibitions and events.

The Manx Museum is free to visit and is currently open seven days a week from 10am – 4pm (2020/2021). It is open all year round excluding Tynwald Day (5 July), Christmas Day, Boxing Day and New Year’s Day.

The museum is based in a Victorian building with a modern extension housing a lecture theatre, education suite and seminar room. The galleries are spread over two floors, with the majority being on the ground level. There are a number of steps and stairs throughout the building, all have lifts or ramp access (with the exception of the archaeology reference gallery which is accessed by 13 steps).

We have a unisex accessible toilet near to the main entrance and an accessible cubicle in the ladies and gentlemen’s toilets near the shop. There are baby changing facilities in each of these areas as well. The Manx Museum also has a publicly accessible Changing Place facility.

We welcome all visitors, and our helpful staff would be happy to assist you during your visit. Please speak to the reception team if you require assistance or would like details of museum events or activities.

This statement lists the range of provisions we have made to ensure that every visitor has a great time when they visit us.

We look forward to welcoming you. If you have any queries or require any assistance please phone 01624 648000 or email enquiries@mnh.im.

1 Getting to the Manx Museum
The Manx Museum is located in central Douglas at the top of a steep hill (Crellin’s Hill).

By car:
The museum has a small car park which is free to access. The museum has three designated disabled parking spaces opposite the entrance. There is a dropped curb.

When the car park is full visitors are welcome to use the car park as a drop-off and collection point. The car park only has one entrance/exit, there is a small turning area at the bottom of the car park.
Visitors can park on the roads surrounding the museum but should note the surrounding streets are within Douglas’ two-hour parking disc zone (meaning cars must be moved every two hours). Disabled badge holders can park in the disc zone for up to four hours, a parking disc must be displayed. The disc zone is not operational at the weekends. Parking discs can be collected from any IOM Post Office, the Welcome Centre at the Sea Terminal or at the Manx Museum reception.

Alternative parking is available at nearby Chester Street Car Park, with access to the museum via a pedestrian footbridge. The payment machine accepts coins and cards. Disabled badge holders can park in Chester Street Car Park for double their allotted time (i.e. 1 hour ticket = two hours parking).

On foot:
The museum is situated on a steep hill from central Douglas, it can be reached by lift from the main shopping street at Chester Street Car Park and through crossing over a pedestrian footbridge. The route is wheelchair and buggy accessible, but there is a steep incline from the footbridge through the museum car park.

By bus:
Douglas Bus Station is 10-15 minute walk from the Manx Museum, please walk through the main shopping street (Strand Street) and the museum can be reached by lift access from Chester Street Car Park and crossing over the footbridge. The route is wheelchair and buggy accessible, but there is a steep incline from the footbridge through the museum car park.

By coach:
There is a designated coach parking bay at the bottom of Crellin’s Hill, on Finch Road. Please note there is a steep hill to reach the Manx Museum from the drop off point. Coach visitors might prefer to use the lift in nearby Chester Street Car Park to reach the Museum.
2 Entrance Area

Access to the main museum is through one set of automated glass doors. The main entrance is completely level.

Manx Museum Entrance – Showing Automated Doors

The main entrance has a medium height counter and is well lit. There is an induction hearing loop fitted.

Manx Museum Reception Area
Torches and ear defenders are available to borrow from reception for those who require them.

We have a wheelchair available to borrow while you visit – just ask when you arrive or call ahead to pre book.

Assistance dogs are welcome and a water bowl is available at reception, please ask.

Cloak Room Facilities

The Manx Museum does not have a dedicated cloakroom, but visitors are welcome to leave their coats or bags in the hanging area next to the lecture theatre. Items are left at visitors own risk. There are also some small lockers in this area.

Please speak to the reception staff if you would like to use this facility or would like to leave bulkier items.
3 Museum Galleries for Disabled Visitors

The Manx Museum is free to visit and offers a warm welcome to all.

The Manx Museum has free WiFi. Please ask for joining details at reception or in the library reading room.

Visitors with specific needs are welcome to contact the museum team in advance of their visit and descriptive guided tours can be arranged. Please contact Katie King on 01624 648035 or email katie.king@gov.im to talk about your requirements.

Assistance dogs are welcome and a water bowl is available at reception, please ask.

Visitors with Mobility Impairment

Access to the main entrance to the museum is level and we have a medium level counter at reception.

From reception there is a push button power assisted door leading to the art gallery. There is another power assisted door from the art gallery to the rest of the galleries. There are no more doors that require opening throughout the building.

Visitors with Visual Impairment

Lighting levels in the museum galleries are low and floor surface finishes vary. The main museum galleries on the ground floor are level.

Visitors with specific needs are welcome to contact the museum team in advance of their visit to request a descriptive guided tour. Please contact Katie King on 01624 648035 or email katie.king@gov.im to talk about your requirements.

Our library and reading room have large screen computer monitors, free WiFi access and Pebble readers to aid with magnification of documents.

Assistance dogs are welcome and a water bowl is available at reception, please ask.

Visitors with Sensory Difficulties

Sound, film and light are used in the museum galleries as an interpretative tool and to create atmosphere. We also display a wide range of artefacts – from Viking swords, to taxidermy specimens. During term time the museum can become busy with school visits and coach parties; and during the school holidays can be busy with family visits. This all means the galleries can become noisy and disorientating, which some visitors may find challenging.

When planning your visit our staff would be happy to advise whether the museum has any large pre-booked groups; and during your visit can suggest quieter galleries and spaces.

We have a dedicated quiet room off the Natural History Gallery for visitors who need a break. We hope you enjoy the soft sofa and soft lighting.

Torches and ear defenders can be borrowed from reception for visitors with sensory difficulties.

We can also offer familiarisation tours for visitors with sensory difficulties during quieter times so they feel more confident to revisit. Please contact Katie King on 01624 648035 or email katie.king@gov.im to talk about your requirements.
Visitors with Hearing Impairment

Our main reception area, shop counter and library reading room counter have an induction loop for our hearing impaired visitors. The hearing induction loop requires your hearing aid to be set to T.

There is written interpretation in all galleries.

Visitors with specific needs are welcome to contact the museum team in advance of their visit to request a guided tour.

A number of our AV films in the museum galleries are subtitled.

Transcripts for all our films are available at reception, with a set next to each film as well.

For those with hyper sensitive hearing we can offer ear defenders - please just ask when you arrive if you would like to borrow a pair.

Assistance dogs are welcome and a water bowl is available at reception, please ask.
4 Young Children

Young children are very welcome at the Manx Museum. Children are invited to make noise, play and have fun in the galleries. In addition the Exploratorium gallery has been specifically designed to encourage play.

To protect our collections food and drink are not allowed in the galleries, although we have a family friendly café. We have an outdoor picnic area at the rear of the car park with benches and great views of the sea.

The Manx Museum supports and welcomes breastfeeding mothers. There is also a quiet room that can be used off the Natural History Gallery. In addition the Bay Room Café are happy to heat milk or baby food for customers.

The dedicated quiet room off the Natural History Gallery can be used by any visitors who require a break from the galleries for whatever reason.

There is full buggy access throughout the building, with lifts and ramps available at all level changes. A number of the lift points require staff operation, so please notify a member of staff if assistance is required – they are happy to help.

There are no designated buggy parks, but if you would like to leave your buggy please speak to the reception team and they will advise whether space is available in our reception area.

Changing facilities are available in the unisex accessible toilet in the main reception area and in the ladies and gents toilet block near the gift shop and café. Parents are also welcome to use the large Changing Place facility near to the gift shop.

Torches and ear defenders are available to borrow from reception for those who require them.
